The Council have issued the following statement:

“The Council shares the serious concern of parents that UNISON shows no inclination to end strikes by teaching assistants. Like them, we’re very disappointed by the continued disruption and inconvenience. Despite the Council arranging a meeting with Unison and ACAS on Thursday this week (2nd March), they continue to strike, with more proposed disruption next week. Once more we repeat our call to UNISON to call off their industrial action whilst talks are held.”

Yours sincerely
